

ONSLAUGHT OF RUSSIAN FORCES CONTINUES WITHOUT CESSATION

Czar's Mighty Hosts Now Less Than 200 Miles From Berlin and German Forces Are Fleeing Before Terrible Attack of the Russian Millions.

FIGHT CARRIED MANY MILES WITHIN GERMAN BORDERS ON BOTH EAST AND WEST LINES

Germans Renew Trip-hammer Blows at Dixmude in Supreme Effort to Break Through Steel Lines of Sturdy Allies—Japan on Point of Throwing Troops into Europe—Crisis of the War is at Hand—Speed of Victorious Russians is Surprise—Teutons Striking Hard to Turn Tide.

Petrograd, via London, November 9.—What is described here as a continued and irresistible offensive of the Russian army, resulting in the evacuation of Poland by the Germans, is reported today as successfully establishing itself in German territory at Pleschen, 15 miles west of the Russo-German frontier. In addition the Germans are said to be generally relinquishing their stand along the Warthe river. This advance was accomplished, it is stated, by the Russian cavalry movement in outflanking the German left. Russian penetration of German territory to Pleschen, Prussia, northwest of Kalisz, upon which latter point the Germans appeared to be withdrawing, threatened the German line of communication. Along the south Polish frontier the Russians attacked the Austrian rear guard at Pinczow, which commands an important crossing on the Upper Vistula, 25 miles from Cracow. It is asserted here that a general retreat of the Austrian forces on Cracow, as a new base, is now apparent.

London, November 9.—Three points stand out in the news of the great war: In Flanders the Germans, undaunted by past failure to break through to the Straits of Dover, have launched their expected new attack, regarded by the allies as their supreme effort. In Russian-Poland the immense armies of the Russian emperor are pushing forward with surprising speed, threatening the Germans on home soil. From Tokio comes the report that a Japanese army may be sent to the west to take its part with the British, French and Belgians in the struggles on the battlefields of Europe. Military observers agree that the war has entered upon a crucial stage and that the next week may mark a definite turn in the course of events.

In the French opinion the Germans must either win their way to the English Channel or fall back. For that reason particular interest attaches to today's official French statement, which indicated the beginning of the onslaught for which the Germans have been preparing during the lull of the last few days. Fresh troops and new guns from the Krupp works have been rushed to the line of battle from Dixmude, southward across the French border to Arras. The Germans have struck their first blows at Dixmude and in the region of Ypres and the French war office announces that their attacks have been repulsed.

Slow progress for the allies along the greater part of the line from Dixmude to Lys is claimed by the French. The rapid clearing of Germans from Russia-Poland has lent to the eastern campaign a degree of interest no less than that which attaches to the fighting in the west. Unofficial reports from Petrograd indicate that the vast Russian military organization is at last under way in full force and that the German and Austrian armies are being opposed with enormous Russian forces. Berlin admits that the Russians are now well beyond the river Warthe, which roughly marks the eastern boundary of Germany.

The Russian advance, unless checked, may have an important bearing upon the fighting in the west, possibly compelling Germany to withdraw troops from France and Belgium. It is suggested, however, that Russia may delay her efforts to accomplish her long cherished purpose of swinging down the Bosphorus.

No developments of first importance are reported in the near east. The Russian general staff announces that a Turkish attack on the Russian position at Koprakelu was repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy. The Russian Black Sea fleet has renewed bombardment of towns along the coast of Asia Minor.

The suggestion that Japan send an army to Europe has not yet taken tangible form, but Tokio reports that the idea is attracting increasing attention, and finds support in military circles. The sending of a Japanese army to the west would be a movement without precedent and one which would emphasize the extent of the conflict. Into it already have been drawn Turks from Africa and dark-skinned soldiers of India.

London, November 9.—At three points in the area of hostilities—in Silesia, in East Prussia and in Alsace—forces of the allies were on German soil today and for the first time since the outbreak of hostilities conditions seemed to presage, in the opinion of British military observers, a reversal of the roles of the contending armies.

Up to the present time Germany has been fighting, generally speaking in the territory of her enemies, but now she would appear to be more or less seriously menaced from the east by the victorious armies of Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief in the field, the advance guards of which are less than 200 miles from Berlin. It is true that there was a brief Russian invasion of East Prussia during the early stages of the war while the French have, for a long time, held their position in Alsace, but the latest development in the Russian advance, if the interpretation placed on it in London is not all wrong, is the most important of the campaign up to the present time. It is mere speculation, of course, to say that Germany may be forced forthwith to retire from Belgium, or even cease her offensive in this arena.

In certain areas of France and Belgium the allies are taking a vigorous offensive, but it is too early yet to predict that Germany will not renew her smashing tactics in an effort to break through the lines and that there will not be much hard fighting around Ypres. In any event, German retirement from Belgium probably would be very slow as the forces of Emperor William have made the entire country behind their battle line one vast fortification, with trenches even more carefully prepared than those they are still holding in France.

Washington, November 9.—Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople today reported the resignation of the Turkish ministers of agriculture, interior and post and telegraph, the cabinet officers who represented the peace party in the Ottoman government. They resigned on November 2, leaving the war party in control. Mr. Morgenthau's previous messages showed that the three men made every effort to prevent Turkey entering the war.

PRINCE LOUIS OF BATTENBURG UNDER FIRE IN ENGLAND.

Prince Louis of Battenburg, first sea lord of the British admiralty, is under fire because he was once a German. A cry has been raised in England that he be dismissed, it being claimed that his sympathies at heart are with the Germans. It is said these rumors were traced to a personal enemy of the prince. He is held in high esteem by the king and those in power who know him personally, but the people in the street are suspicious of him, now that the cry against him has been started. Prince Louis has been in the British naval service for forty-five years and longer ago than that gave up his German nationality. He has held many honorable details in the navy and received a medal and the khedive's star for his services for the crown in the Egyptian war in 1882. He has commanded several important squadrons in the British navy and ranks as an admiral de camp to the king. He has been first sea lord of the admiralty since 1912.

CORNCROP IS RECORD BREAKER

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 9.—This year's corn crop is perhaps the most valuable ever grown, owing to its increased price on account of the European war. The Department of Agriculture announced today, in its preliminary estimates, that the crop would amount to 2,705,692,000 bushels and that on November 1 farmers were being paid 69.7 cents a bushel. The value of the crop, therefore, based on November 1 figures, is $1,885,867,324. Preliminary estimates of the size of the country's import crops included potatoes, 406,288,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 56,030,000 bushels; apples, 258,862,000 bushels, and sugar beets, 5,147,000 tons.

EMDEN FLEES FROM BRITISH

By Associated Press.

London, November 9.—A Sydney, New South Wales, dispatch says that a skipper arriving from Singapore reports that after the German cruiser Emden's success in sinking the Russian and French warships at Penang the German warships and two store ships were overtaken by a British cruiser. The speedy Emden fled but the British man-of-war sank one store ship and captured the other.

WHEAT CROP PROMISES TO BE BUMPER ONE

By Associated Press.

Columbus, November 9.—The wheat crop promises to be a bumper one, according to the November crop report of the State Agricultural Commission issued today. The present acreage sowed in wheat is estimated at 1,828,267 acres, 5 per cent better than this time last year.

Corn prospects are 93 per cent, a little below an average. Rye acreage is estimated at 134,789 acres, only 94 per cent of an average, and the condition is 98 per cent of normal. The potato crop this year is estimated at 9,500,437 bushels, which is considered good, as the crop last year was about 7,000,000 bushels. The condition of hogs at present is 97 per cent. This average is considered good by Agricultural Commission officials.

Potatoes are one of the few agricultural crops which are cheaper this year than last. They are selling now for 63 cents, compared with 91 cents last year. Other prices are as follows: Wheat, $1.04, last year 89c; corn 69c, last year 68c; barley 68c, last year 62c; oats 46c, last year 41c; rye 82c, last year 71c.

MORE STATES ARE UNDER QUARANTINE

Foot and Mouth Disease Continues to Spread But is Being Checked in Some States—Fourteen Counties in Ohio Now Under Rigid Quarantine—Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey Are Added Restricted States.

By Associated Press.

Columbus, November 9.—Because of the spread of the foot and mouth disease, nine more counties have been placed under quarantine by the State Agricultural Commission. These counties are Lucas, Erie, Henry, Fayette, Licking, Hardin, Union, Ottawa and Knox. The original quarantine, issued Friday night, placed absolute quarantine on only five counties, Hancock, Marion, Seneca, Wood and Wyandot. State Veterinarian Paul Fischer says that the nine additional counties have been quarantined on information furnished by state and federal inspectors.

In the fourteen counties under quarantine the shipment, transportation, driving or movement of cattle is prohibited. Dr. Fischer has had 30 men in the field and he expects to double this force. Dr. Marion Imes, the chief of federal inspectors, who is working in conjunction with Dr. Fischer, expects ten more field men for Ohio service this week. Stockyards, chutes and loading places in 25 counties have been placed under quarantine.

MORE STATE ARE UNDER QUARANTINE

Washington, November 9.—Officials of the Department of Agriculture prepared today to extend their fight against the foot and mouth disease to Rhode Island, Delaware and New Jersey. Orders quarantining these states against inter-state shipments of live stock were signed today by Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture. These states, with New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Michigan, and Iowa, comprise the infected area. Reviewing the fight the states and the Department of Agriculture are making Secretary Houston said that unless the infection immediately could be localized and quickly eradicated it threatened untold losses among live stock.

QUARANTINE AGAINST CANADIAN LIVE STOCK

By Associated Press.

Washington, November 9.—All shipment of live stock from Canada to the United States will be barred by a quarantine order prepared today at the department of agriculture. There is no evidence of foot and mouth disease in the Dominion of Canada but infected cars have been sent over the border and the order is to prevent their return.

Delaware was added to the list of quarantined states today because of discovery of the disease at Wilmington. This brings the number of quarantined states up to 12.

OUTBREAK REPORTED IN NEW JERSEY

ROMAN SOLDIERS ATTACKED

Turkey's intention to drive the Italians out of Tripoli indicated by information received at Rome—Sultan would regain North African Provinces Lost in the War Between Italy and Turkey.

Rome, Nov. 9.—Italy is sending troops to Tripoli to defend her settlements and loyal tribesmen against Arab rebels and Bedouins, who have raided supply columns in the interior and have attacked an encampment of submissive tribesmen at Derna. Turkey has disregarded the promise made to Italy by Germany that the port would not threaten Italian colonies and that Turkey had no designs on Tripoli.

Events are tending more and more to force Italy into the war on the side of the allies. The newest, most momentous crisis has developed in Cyrenaica, due to the aggressions of Bedouins stirred by the preachments of Turkish and German agents.

News received here indicates Turkey's intention to drive the Italians out of Tripoli and to regain the provinces lost in the war between Italy and Turkey. For a week Bedouins in the interior have waylaid small detachments of troops and have fired upon and wounded Italian soldiers.

Bedouins appeared in force at Derna, on the eastern extremity of the Cyrenaica promontory, and made a savage effort to destroy the encampment there. The desert marauders were driven off by the Italian infantry.

It seems probable that Italy within the next day or so will demand an explanation of Turkey and possibly from Scene from Act I in "A Pair of Sixes". Empire Theatre, Wednesday Night, November 11.

Germany, since Germany has assumed to guarantee the safety of Tripoli. There is no attempt to minimize the present crisis, since the blood and treasure that Italy poured out for North Africa may be wasted unless Italy acts quickly.

ALLIES REPULSED
GERMAN ATTACKS

Paris, Nov. 9.—The official communiqué issued by the government says: "Between the North sea and the river Lys the fighting was less violent. A few desultory attacks by the enemy were repulsed toward Dixmude and northeast of Ypres. On almost all this front we have taken the offensive in our turn and advanced, particularly in the region north of Messines. Around Armentieres the British troops have made slight progress. Between La Bassée and Arras the attacks of the enemy have been repulsed. Around Soissons, there has been a considerable advance on the part of our forces. In the region of Vailly, as well as on the right bank of the Aisne, we have pushed forward in force north of Chavonne and Soupir, where a German attack on Caronnelle and Heurebize was repulsed. Around Verdun, to the northwest, and southeast of this place, we are organizing the points of support recently captured."

NO HOLY WAR IS IN EGYPT

London, Nov. 9.—There is no indication so far that the efforts of Turkey and Germany to stir the Moslems in Egypt to revolt has been successful. Religious leaders and tribals seem to have rejected Turkey's demands for a holy war and are promising loyalty to the empire.

B. F. KEITH'S

Frank Fogerty, "The Dublin Minstrel," prince of monologists, will appear at B. F. Keith's theater, Columbus, week of November 16. Quaint humor and scintillating wit mark every line Mr. Fogerty delivers in his own original way. His wit is clean and brilliant and his monologue is entertaining throughout.

Mlle. Corradini's menagerie, consisting of zebras, elephants, horses and dogs of almost human intelligence, will be seen in Columbus for the first time. This is a great European act which is making its first American tour. This act made a decidedly good impression at the Palace theatre, New York, where it appeared last week. Thousands of school children were advised by their teachers to see this act, which is the best nature study lesson imaginable.

"Fixing the Furnace," a comedy sketch, with George Rolland, Billy Kelly and Miss Grace Bennett in the cast will be one of the laughable successes of the bill. A fireless furnace on a zero morning will furnish the setting for this act.

Grace Wilson, "That's All"—the dainty girl who sings new songs, will make her first appearance in Columbus.

Joe Kene and Elizabeth Mayno, in "All Life and Action" is another delightfully entertaining dancing act, new this season. Mr. Kene formerly appeared with Rosa Green, and Miss Mayno was of the team of Mack and Mayne. They dance up and down stairs and do other fancy feats as well as graceful, modern dancing.

Phillips and White, will offer a song and piano act. Sidney Phillips sings and Willie White is a full-fledged accompanist.

Mosher, Hayes and Mosher, "Three on a Wheel," a trio of cycling comedians, will offer the last word in daring and sensational wheel floats. The Hearst-Selig pictures many taken on the European battle fields, will complete the bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE.

Wednesday night, next, will be celebrated at the Empire theatre as laugh night, when the commodious playhouse will be given over to laughter at H. H. Frazee's famous comedy success, "A Pair of Sixes", the appearance of which has been anxiously awaited by theatrical patrons. Indeed "A Pair of Sixes" was boldly declared by Metropolitan writers to be a riot of fun and they make no excuse for the use of that much abused phrase except to say that it was for once well applied. There are three acts of the comedy and the plot contains all the elements that are necessary to success in these days when the public know just what they want. The story is exceedingly well worked out and there is nothing which strains the imagination to believe. This is especially strange when one recalls that from the beginning he could not possibly have guessed the final climax. There is one succession of surprises and the laughter is continuous and uproarious. Absurdities follow absurdities until the audience is almost in convulsions.

TURK FORTS
BOMBARDED

Athens, Nov. 9.—The British squadron has bombarded various points along the coast of Asia Minor. The Turkish troops were concealed behind breastworks on the coast. The telegraphic station near Smyrna has been destroyed. A British battleship has gone to Avall, Asia Minor, to seek the British consul and other British subjects. The forts at Pedil, Bachr and Koumaia have been seriously damaged by the recent bombardment by the warships.

FIGHT THE NIGHT RIDERS

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 9.—In a fight between 100 masked night riders and a posse of men defending a helpless family from attack two raiders were killed and a third may be dead in Buler county, Ky. Troops are likely to be asked of Governor McCreary. Two women and the young son of one were warned that night riders would call on a certain night and whip them. The young man exhibited the warning notice and asked neighbors to help defend the house. Several agreed to do this and, armed with shotguns, all camped in a small wood near the family's house. When the night riders appeared, the defenders opened fire. Two men were seen to topple out of their saddles and another is said to have been killed. Outrumbered, the defenders were finally forced to give way, the raiders going on to the house, dragging the helpless women out and beating them. The raiders then attacked the young man who had given the alarm and so maltreated him that he divulged the names of those who had defended his home. These men were notified that the raiders had learned their names and have fled the country, fearing death.

SIEGEL ARRAIGNED

New York, Nov. 9.—The last stage of the sensational collapse of the Siegel dry goods enterprises in this city last December began today when Henry Siegel, the indicted banker-merchant and former head of the stores, was arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Clark at Genesee, Livingston county, to be tried on an indictment charging grand larceny from the National Bank of Commerce on April 29, 1913. Frank E. Vogel, his former business partner, escaped trial on the same charge by his death a few weeks ago.

The change of venue from New York to Livingston county was the first step of Siegel's counsel, John B. Stanchfield, in what promises to be a closely contested legal fight to keep him out of jail. The maximum penalty for the crime of which Siegel is accused is ten years in state prison.

An Unexpected Set Back
Once in a while—and generally that while is of several years' duration—the pendulum of public opinion is swung violently to the extreme. To the one side or to the other, at regularly recurring intervals, that great controller of governments, like this, is violently propelled by a right-about face in election results, which carries it far away from the zone of its regular swing.

It not infrequently happens that governmental movements of reform are gradual in their effect on the great pendulum. Inch by inch a reform gains in popular favor and inch by inch the great pendulum of public opinion yields to the insistent force until the extreme is reached.
Then something or some one slips, and back to the other side it goes. Many people become discouraged when these periodical sweeps occur but, on the whole, the old pendulum runs pretty smoothly and the backward and forward movement is rhythmic and regular, taken altogether. The sudden lurches like that one of last Tuesday are generally unexpected and usually record a backset for men and movements supposed to be in the high tide of public favor.

For many, many long years the temperance forces have been plodding along in this state—at some periods moving more rapidly than at others, gaining advantages sometimes by larger successes—gradually but certainly pushing the pendulum over to the extreme of statewide prohibition. So steady and so sure had been the success of the movement that perhaps some of the leaders grew over-confident in their belief that the great pendulum would not break away and swing back to the other side.

But just as complete success seemed to be within their grasp some one played his part wrong and public opinion, as recorded in the voting last Tuesday, forsook them and all the patient effective work which had been done in two decades was swept away in twelve voting hours.

Why?
Why this complete and surprising reversal of public opinion?
Well, about that, different individuals will hold different opinions.
Bad political judgment is assigned as the cause by the majority of people who have been endeavoring to figure out, since last Tuesday night, how it happened.

At any rate there are a great many good people in Ohio who realize now that a cause which was supposed to be safely entrenched in the territory gained in the years of patient campaigning and well equipped for a successful campaign of offensive operations, has met with staggering reverses.
Not only did the temperance forces meet with decisive defeat in their offensive movement, but they were routed, and disastrously too, in the territory which they had already secured.
With a legislature generally conceded to be "wet" coming into power in Ohio next January, and with the specific promise of the Governor-elect contained in the platform of his party to "decentralize" the power to appoint liquor license commissioners and put those officials under local control, only the decidedly optimistic folks can see anything more cheerful in prospect than to begin the local option fight all over again.

The temperance forces are still stunned by the rout of last Tuesday and while there is some loose talk by individuals, the leaders have not yet been able to give the subject sufficient consideration to formulate their plans.
The liberal element is jubilant as the temperance element is downcast.
Perhaps it would be well for the Anti-Saloon forces to indulge in a little reverse thinking along the line which leads from effect to cause.
More effective work can be done, the prospect of recovering lost territory would be more promising, when the cause of the present setback is ascertained to a certainty and the possibility of making the same blunder again securely guarded against.

Poetry For Today

THANKSGIVING.
We walk on starry fields of white
And do not see the daisies;
For blessings common in our sight
We rarely offer praises.
We sigh for some supreme delight
To crown our lives with splendor,
And quite ignore our daily store
Of pleasures sweet and tender.
There's not a day in all the year
But holds some hidden pleasure,
And looking back, joys oft appear
To brim the past's wide measure.
But blessing are like friends, I hold
Who love and labor near us.
We ought to raise our notes of praise
While living hearts can hear us.
We ought to make the moments notes
Of happy, glad Thanksgiving,
The hours and day, a silent phrase
Of music we are living.
And so the theme should swell and grow
As weeks and months pass o'er us
And rise sublime at this good time,
A grand Thanksgiving chorus.

Mr. Bowser's grouch started at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he found that a certain man had done him up for $10.
He carried that grouch to the car with him.
It rode with him and got off with him.
It was bubbling when he kicked the darned old gate open.
It rose to wrath when he found a darned needle on the lower step.
Mrs. Bowser was in the hall when he entered the house, but he got out of his overcoat and flung down his hat without noticing her. Like a diplomatic woman, she took no notice of his conduct, and, though he growled and grumbled over the dinner, she prevented his breaking loose. When the meal was finished, however, Mr. Bowser could hold in no longer. He stood in the middle of the sitting room and looked around for an excuse to begin the business of the evening. It took him three or four minutes to find one, but he finally noticed that a caster had dropped out of the leg of a chair, and he led off with:
"So you have been at it again, have you?"
"At what?" she quietly asked.
"At smashing up the furniture with a crowbar! It isn't enough that the roof leaks, half the windows are broken, the doorknobs all off, but you must seek to destroy what's left! Look at that chair, will you?"
"I see the chair. One of the casters is out."
"And how did it come out?" he shouted. "You probably spent half the afternoon whacking away at the chair with a crowbar, club or sledgehammer. Why didn't you smash it to kindling wood? Why didn't you clear out the room and be done with it? If there's another house in America!"

"PUT ON YOUR HAT AND WALK."
"Mr. Bowser, don't speak to me that way!" she exclaimed as she rose up. "I know what you were going to say, but you let me tell you that this house is run all right—as right as any other in America. As to the chair, you flung yourself down upon it the other night and broke it, and it's your business to make repairs or send it away!"
"You—you are speaking to me?" he stammered as his eyes opened very wide.
"Speaking right to you, Mr. Bowser. I am not in the habit of talking to the walls or the furniture. Please sit down while I talk to you."
"Woman—do—do—"
"That's all right, Mr. Bowser—sit down. Now, then, there are no leaks in the roof of this house. If there are then you caused them by going up and cutting through the tin with an ax. Not a pane of glass is broken, not a doorknob off, not a piece of furniture out of repair except that chair. Something went wrong with you today, but you must either change your tune at once or put on your hat and take a walk!"
"Wh-wh! You talk that way to me to your husband!" howled Mr. Bowser as he leaped to his feet and his hair stood up.
"Be calm," she replied. "A wife has all the rights a husband has in this country, and one of her rights is to talk. You didn't seem to like the steak at dinner, and I noticed you making a face over your coffee. It was a fine steak, Mr. Bowser, and the coffee was excellent. However, if you can do better at a cafe I have no objections. Perhaps it would be as well for you to secure board elsewhere for a week or two!"
Mr. Bowser sat down. He sat down because his head whirled and he was wondering where he was at.
"You complain about things being broken," she continued. "Nothing is ever broken except by you. You go slashing around like a rhinoceros turned loose, and it's a wonder we have a whole piece of furniture in the house. If the doorknobs were not on to stay you'd have slammed them off long ago. You broke four glasses in trying to get one off the buffet the other night, and this morning you managed to pull two handles off your dresser and drag one of the window curtains down. Nice sort of man you are to talk about my using sledgehammers and crowbars!"

She heard a gurgling, gasping sound from the direction of Mr. Bowser and glanced that way to note his bulging eyes and red face and open mouth.
"The other night we had a little difference of opinion," she said as she turned away. "Because I differed with you, you got up and tramped around the room and said it was no wonder that husbands were driven to drink and to spend their evenings in saloons. When you see fit to take a drink, Mr. Bowser, don't stop to consult me. Just go off and get your ginger ale, and if I find you on the doorstep I'll throw a bed quilt over you to keep the frost out. I have heard that saloons are very attractive places. If you prefer them to your home go ahead, and you needn't be in a hurry about getting home."
That was Mrs. Bowser talking; but, though she was sitting in a chair, she seemed to Mr. Bowser to be whirling round and round. His eyes blurred, and there was a lump in his throat, and he hardly breathed as he waited for her to go on.
"I want some money for a new hat, gloves and hosiery, and I want it right away. I asked you last week, and you said you were hard up, though you brought home a ten dollar box of cigars that same night. Just remember that I am an equal partner with you in money matters, Mr. Bowser. Half you have belongs to me, morally and legally. If you can smoke fifteen cent cigars I can wear silk stockings at $8 per pair. As a rule, the more a husband squanders the more he expects his wife to save, but we'll change things about."
Mr. Bowser rose up and stood for a moment, and he also extended an arm and opened his mouth. The words wouldn't come, however, and he sank back and wondered if it was a case of heart failure or paralysis.
"Now and then," went on Mrs. Bowser as she rocked to and fro and looked at the wall, "you pity me because I was brought up in the country and patronizingly praise me because I am not a fool. Yes, I was brought up in the country, and so were you. You ate with a knife and drank tea out of a saucer the first time I saw you!"
"By the great horn spoon, woman!" shrieked Mr. Bowser as he bounded to his feet, but she stopped him right there with:
"As to intellect, I could have more, and the same thing all you. As a matter of fact, however, if I can't give you pointers on almost every subject under the sun, from the best way to tan a coon skin to the last political movements in Europe, I'll go out of business. Hold on, Mr. Bowser. Don't get excited. You are constantly criticizing my housekeeping. A wife should strive to please her husband in such things, but if he won't be pleased with her efforts then let him hire a housekeeper or take his meals out. You claim to be a good business man, but you have been beaten half a dozen times in the last year. I could have criticised you, but I didn't."
"And this—this to me!" he managed to gasp out.
"All to you, Mr. Bowser, and just a word more. When I think I can do better I shall pack up my traps and get out. You'd better have the same line of policy. People are foolish to live together when they can't take comfort. I've got a few letters to write and will now leave you, and should any one call and ask for me you can say I'm very, very busy. Good night, Mr. Bowser—see you in the morning!"

Secret Diplomacy
Responsible For Present War
By Rabbi WISE of New York

THE one truly incurable thing about war is its effect upon the nations participating. We must learn the truth that IN WAR THERE IS ONLY ONE DEFEAT, and that defeat perches upon the banners of every single combatant, giving a permanent loss to be suffered on down through the generations.
I BLAME SECRET DIPLOMACY FOR THE PRESENT WAR—THE DIPLOMACY THAT PASSES BAD MONEY AND SUBSTITUTES POLITICAL ATTITUDES FOR MORAL ATTITUDES. SECRET DIPLOMACY HAS LONG MUTTERED, WHAT IS SUCH A THING AS THE DECALOGUE BETWEEN NATIONS? AND THE RESULT IS THE HELL INTO WHICH DIPLOMACY, WITH ITS FOUL LIES AND HIDEOUS FALSITIES OF SPEECH, HAS NOW FLUNG US. IF MONTHS AGO THE MILLIONS IN EUROPE, LATTER DESTINED TO BE FLUNG INTO WAR, HAD KNOWN FROM DAY TO DAY AND HOUR TO HOUR WHAT WAS HAPPENING IN THE CHANCERIES OF EUROPE THERE COULD HAVE BEEN NO WAR.

WOMEN SUFFER TERRIBLY FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE.
Around on her feet all day—no wonder a woman has backache, headache, stiff swollen joints, weariness, poor sleep and kidney trouble. Foley Kidney Pills give quick relief for these troubles. FAYETTE IS UNDER RIGID QUARANTINE

Disease on Perrill Farm is Now Among His Swine, and 58 Head of Cattle, 128 Head of Hogs and 12 Sheep Will be Killed.

FIVE GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS HERE

Federal Employee States If New Outbreak Does Not Occur in County, Shipment of Live Stock May be Made in Near Future, Providing Permits Are Issued—Suspected Case at Buena Vista is Under Quarantine.

Fayette county, like a great many other counties in the state of Ohio, is now under rigid quarantine to prevent a general epidemic of the "foot and mouth" disease, which was found to exist among a herd of 51 cattle recently purchased from Chicago by John Perrill, of near Selden.

Five government officials arrived in this county Monday and went to the Perrill farm to examine the animals, and as soon as the entire herd can be appraised, they will be slaughtered and their bodies buried in quicklime.

Not only will the entire 51 head be slaughtered, but seven other cattle, 128 hogs and 12 head of sheep on the Perrill farm will also be slaughtered and the bodies buried in quicklime under at least three feet of earth.

So rapidly does the disease spread that it already has made its appearance among Mr. Perrill's hogs, and many of them are now suffering from the plague.

A cow, owned by Robert Jones, of Buena Vista, has been quarantined until a disease with which it is afflicted can be diagnosed. The disease is not unlike the foot and mouth disease, but it is believed that it is not the genuine disease. The case will be watched closely.

Mr. A. H. Julian, an employee of the State Bureau of Live Stock Industry, who has seen five years' service in the Philippine Islands where he fought the disease almost continuously, came down from Columbus, Saturday evening, viewed the Perrill cattle and immediately pronounced their affliction "foot and mouth" disease.

The county was then quarantined, and for the present not a single head of cattle, hogs or sheep will be permitted to enter or leave the county unless first slaughtered.

Dr. Salt, in charge of the cholera eradication in Fayette county, was in Columbus for a conference with Dr. Paul Fischer, Monday morning, and upon his return brought Dr. C. L. Holt, a federal inspector, with him. Mr. Holt has been at work in Indiana and Michigan, and states that out there the situation is well in hand, and no new cases have been reported within the past few days. He had been working and traveling practically day and night for a week or ten days.

Speaking of the situation in Fayette county he said that in all probability the sale and shipment of live stock from Fayette could be resumed within a few days, but every shipper would be required to have a permit from veterinarians in charge.

The quarantine of Fayette county, placed upon the county by the State Department, may be in force for one to three months, he stated, but this would not prohibit the shipment where inspections were made and permits issued. He based his opinion upon immediate elimination of the disease in the county by killing off afflicted herds.

In all cases the animals are first appraised, and the owner is paid by the state and federal government, one-half being borne by each. In this way the owner of the stock is not the loser.

Farmers having live stock to sell, and live stock buyers who are anxious to buy and sell, will be interested in the statement that in all probability the resumption of shipping hogs and cattle may begin within a very short time, providing the present outbreak is promptly eliminated.

At the Perrill farm no one is permitted to go on the farm or to leave it, and when the federal authorities complete their work, all parts of the farm will be thoroughly disinfected, and even dogs and cats will be slaughtered with the cloven hoof animals.

Many persons, totally unaware of the liability of carrying the disease into their own herds, have gone to the Perrill farm, but of course were not permitted to set foot upon it.

Persons having horses, sheep or cattle suffering from an affliction of the mouth or feet, are urged to notify the local Bureau of Live Stock Industry, over either telephone, or at their office in the Stitt-Todhunter building on Market street.

The Perrill cattle were shipped here from Chicago, and were unloaded at the pens at Rattlesnake.

The B. & O. is now tracing the two cars in which the animals were shipped, and when found they will be disinfected.

Check Worker Who Operated in Washington C. H., Gets Indeterminate Term of From One to Fourteen Years in Illinois State Penitentiary.

Duplicate letters have been received by the managements of the Cherry and Arlington hotels here from the law firm of Cranston and Beckwith, Danville, Ill., containing announcement that O. E. Schantz, forger, who operated successfully here a few weeks ago, has plead guilty to a charge of forgery in an Illinois court and received an indeterminate sentence of from one to fourteen years in the state penitentiary. The firm had acted as his legal representative.

Schantz worked his game here on both hotels for $25 each. He is a member of a prominent Hamilton, O., family.

BRITTENHAM IS ABLE TO BE UP

Clarence Brittenham, the man with the crushed skull and injured brain, is able to be up and about his room at the Fayette hospital, and at the end of the present week will be discharged from the hospital, unless unforeseen developments occur.

Brittenham is expected to fully recover, although at the present time there is a noticeable lack of perfect articulation when he talks. This is expected to disappear in time, however, and it is believed that the man for whom little or no hope was held at the beginning, may ultimately attain his former physical condition.

Alonzo Sharpe is being held for hurling the stone which crushed the man's skull.

BEGIN INVASION OF GERMANY

Russians Advancing In Posen and In East Prussia.

OVERCOME ALL OPPOSITION

Advance of Czar's Forces In Southwest Poland and In Galicia Equally Rapid and Irresistible—Movements Cut Off Two Austrian Armies and Make Capture of Cracow a Probability—Operations In Eastern Zone.

Petrograd, Nov. 9.—Russia definitely began the long promised invasion of Germany. It is officially reported that a Russian advance guard has broken the German defense at the river Warthe and has penetrated ten miles within the province of Posen, holding a position at Pleschen, which is fifteen miles northwest of Kalisz and sixty-two miles northeast of Breslau. For the first time since the war began the czar's troops have set foot in a province where the great estates of the German nobles are located. Simultaneously, the Russian drive at east Prussia has driven the Germans from Wirballen, their last position in the Russian province Suwalki, and have overflowed east Prussian territory from Stalluponen, ten miles west of Wirballen, to Lyck, a distance of sixty miles, the Russian front being from seven to ten miles within east Prussia. Cossacks are raiding toward Gumbinnen and Insterberg.

On the southern front, southwest Poland and Galicia, the advance of the Russians has been equally rapid. An advance guard has reached the river Nidzica, less than thirty-five miles from Cracow, and the closest a Russian army has ever been to the gateway of Silesia. This movement has had two results. It makes the capture of Cracow a probability and it has cut off the two Austrian armies, estimated with their German supporting corps at about 600,000 men, which have been operating at the river San and south of Przemyśl.

The news that Russian troops are in the province of Posen and in east Prussia and are within striking distance of Cracow has created the wildest joy in this city. Great crowds marched to the winter palace and cheered the emperor, the Grand Duke Nicholas and other popular generals. Thousands knelt when they sang the national anthem. Processions, organized in the enthusiasm of the moment, paraded to the British and French embassies and saluted the ambassadors with cheers and songs.

tions or nonperishable foods to the Belgian relief committee here.

After the receipt of shipments of food the Rockefeller foundation will take charge of the ocean transportation. In addition to the relief measures initiated by itself, the foundation has arranged to provide a steamship pier, to charter ships and to convey free of charge from New York to Belgium all supplies contributed by the American public.

GERMAN SHIP OUT 160 DAYS

New York, Nov. 9.—The German ship Indra arrived here, having eluded, in a voyage of 160 days from Taltal, Chile, British cruisers on the lookout for German prizes. The Indra was indeed a prize, with 2,820 tons of nitrate of soda, material for ammunition for the warring nations, which, when the Indra sailed from Taltal on June 11, was valued at about $125,000, and now may be sold for nearly a million. This, her skipper, Captain Willy Karstadt, says is one of the fortunes of war, and he is going to hold on to it, because he can not take it to its English owners in Dunkirk and can not communicate with his agents in Hamburg.

MT. VESUVIUS VERY ACTIVE

Naples, Nov. 9.—After seven years of calm since its eruption in 1906, which was one of the longest pauses in its activity in three centuries, Mount Vesuvius began an eruption in May, 1913, which has been constantly growing until it has now reached an acute stage. The crater, 1,000 feet deep, is gradually transforming itself through the opening of new fissures. These are emitting incandescent matter known as magma, which, on contact with the air, becomes lava. Of this matter during the night of Oct. 31 alone over 100 cubic yards were thrown out, reaching a height of 320 feet. In addition, a large volume of smoke and ashes and cinders were expelled. Deep rumblings, known as Strombolian explosions, are constantly heard.

BEECKMAN LANDS GOVERNOR'S CHAIR IN CONNECTICUT.

R. Livingston Beeckman, the Republican standard bearer for governor in Connecticut, was elected, together with his state ticket by comfortable majorities. He is prominent in Newport society and a member of the Connecticut state senate. His opponents were Patrick H. Quinn, Democrat, and Frederick D. Thompson, Progressive.

AMERICANS ARE KILLED

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 9.—Fighting doggedly behind a wagon barricade until their ammunition gave out, three Americans were killed by mounted Mexicans at Chocolate Pass, Chihuahua, according to word brought into San Sidro, Chihuahua, by a Mexican servant of the American party. He declared the Americans were captured alive, shot and tortured to death and their wagon robbed.

The Americans, Carl Eck, William Bishop and Charles West, all of this city, were traveling from El Paso to Looks Ranch, south of Casas Grandes, in northwestern Chihuahua, through a mountainous and little inhabited country. As the wagon entered the narrow defile of Chocolate Pass the Mexicans, charging on horseback, opened fire on the party. The fire was returned. Eck, a boy of seventeen, was wounded in the leg, but continued firing as steadily as his companions. The Mexican servant was unarmed, he said, and took the first opportunity to hide. The fighting continued more than an hour. Then the Americans' ammunition gave out, and the Mexicans, numbering eight or ten, rushed in. There was a brief hand-to-hand fight and the Americans were bound, and knifed and clubbed to death.

GERMAN CASUALTIES TO DATE, 57,800.

Berlin, Nov. 9.—The German casualty list just issued brought the total of names contained in last week's report up to about 57,800. Hospital records show that a very large proportion of the wounded have returned to duty. The last casualty list records the killing of three German aviators and the wounding of six others by hostile airmen.

BARONESS KILLED ON BATTLEFIELD

London, Nov. 9.—Baroness Valkenhansen, a volunteer Red Cross nurse, who was killed by shrapnel while attending the wounded near Sissonne, was the first woman victim on the German side during the war. She was buried with military honors and the kaiser sent an iron cross which was placed on the coffin.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 9.—Gus Martin, who shot and killed George and Raymond Leonard, his brothers-in-law, was arrested while walking along Bergen avenue. On the approach of the officers he tried to commit suicide and shot himself in the face. The wound is not serious.

Sudden End.

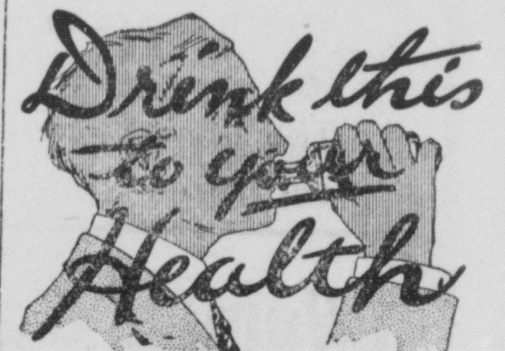

"Whar's Red Face?" asked Four Finger Hogan in the hotel bar at Tin Can. "I haven't seen Red Face around for some time."

A general laugh went up. Then Shotgun Simpson shook his head and said:

"Poor Red Face! He got loaded the other night, rode into Cemetery Gulch, stuck his head in the window of the Crimson Arms hotel and yelled, 'Fire!' 'Everybody did.'—Exchange.

Mumps May Be Serious.

That mumps is a disease far too serious to be laughed at or joked about is proved by the fact that it causes an average of 100 deaths a year in England. It is more serious in adults than in children, as it often affects other glands than those that produce the saliva.—New York World.

A BILLION DOLLARS.

The Time It Would Take an Expert to Count Them Singly.

I wonder if we realize when we talk of a billion dollars what an enormous sum of money it means?

We all know how rapidly an expert counter of coins will manipulate them. You can scarcely follow the motion of his fingers as he shifts the coins from one pile to another and counts them. The treasury experts will count 4,000 silver dollars in an hour and keep it up all day long, but that is their limit.

Working eight hours a day, then, an expert counter of coins will count 32,000 silver dollars in a day, but how long will it take him at that rate to count $1,000,000? Thirty-one days.

But that is only the beginning of the measurements of great figures, for if this same man were to go on counting silver dollars at the same rate of speed for ten years he would find that he had only counted 100,000,000 of them and that to count $1,000,000,000 would require 102 years of steady work at the rate of eight hours a day during every working day of every one of the 102 years.—O. P. Austin, Former Chief of Bureau of Statistics.

ULTIMATUM IS SENT TO CARRANZA

Must Relinquish the Provisional Presidency or Fight.

MUST ACT BEFORE WEDNESDAY

Peace Convention Demands That He Announce His Recognition of the Sovereignty of the Conference and Bow to It by Vacating His Office. Funston Not Alarmed Over Carranza's Threat.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Carranza has until 6 o'clock tomorrow night to make up his mind whether he will relinquish the provisional presidency of Mexico without a struggle or whether he will fight for the retention of his present office.

The news that the convention has sent such an ultimatum to Carranza was received here officially. The convention demands that before Tuesday evening he announce his recognition of the sovereignty of the convention and bow to it by vacating his office, from which the convention has already deposed him, and named General Eulalio Gutierrez in his place.

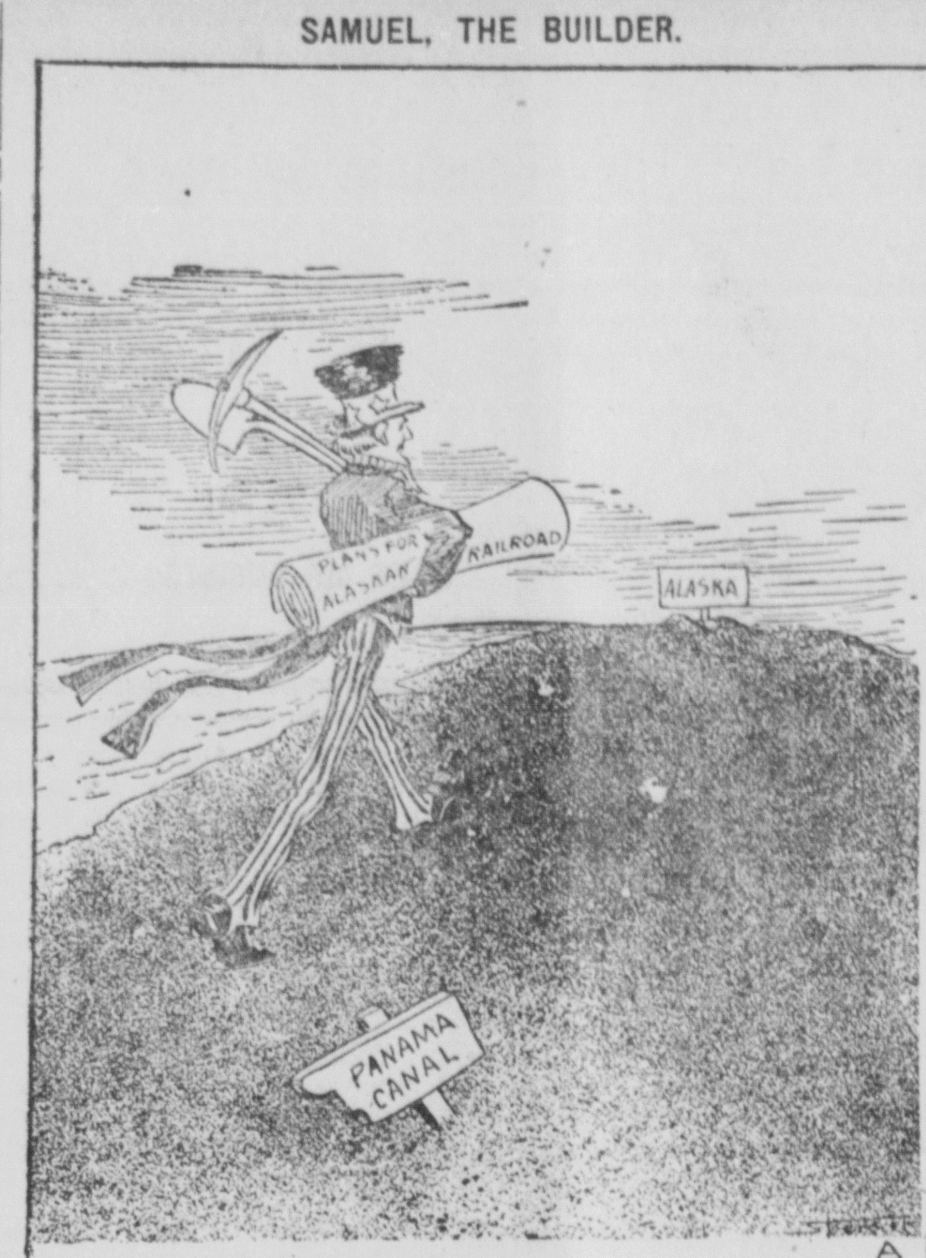

Officials here are confident that by Wednesday next a decisive turn will have been given the situation and there will be some basis for estimating whether there is to be war or peace in Mexico.

Further indications that Carranza is engaged in an attempt to stir up popular sentiment in southern Mexico in favor of himself in his contest with the convention by agitating the issue of Vera Cruz, became apparent here. It became known that while the inflammatory posters published and distributed by Carranza early in the week were promptly suppressed, they were reprinted in all the newspapers a few days later.

General Funston cabled Secretary Garrison, in response to the latter's inquiry, that there seemed to be no cause for alarm.

GUTIERREZ IS THRUST IN JAIL

New York, Nov. 9.—General Gutierrez, who was elected president of Mexico at the recent Aguascalientes convention, has been imprisoned by General Francisco Villa, according to a telegram said to come from General Venustiano Carranza and made public here by the Mexican bureau of information, the same agency that announced Gutierrez had repudiated the acts of the convention electing him.

The telegram accredited to General Carranza did not say where the new president had been captured or where he was believed to be incarcerated.

The reason for the seizure and confinement of Gutierrez, the message said, was that he had refused to be dominated by the demands of the Villa faction.

UNDER ROOF

Columbus, Nov. 9.—Final contracts for the finishing touches on the Ohio building at the Panama-Pacific exposition have just been approved by the board of commissioners. Daniel B. Torpy of Marietta, commissioner in charge from this state, who is in Columbus for a few days, returned last week from San Francisco, where he completed arrangements for the interior furnishings, the heating and lighting of the structure, and for the decoration of the grounds. The Ohio building is now under roof.

NARROW ESCAPE

Lorain, O., Nov. 9.—Charles Borne, farmer, saved his life by rare presence of mind. Borne was digging at the bottom of a fifteen foot well on the farm of C. C. Pease, and was using dynamite to blast. He placed a charge and lit the fuse. While climbing from the well he fell back, breaking both legs. Before he fainted he managed to squirm around and pinch out the blazing fuse. Farmhands found him later.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 9.—Alfonso Iberri, former publisher of El Norte, a Chihuahua daily, and Manuel Acosta, his secretary, are under sentence of death in the city of Chihuahua, according to Americans arriving here. The men are charged with having published a newspaper defending the Huerta government during the period of the recent revolution.

RENEW DRY FIGHT

Findlay, O., Nov. 9.—At a meeting in the First Presbyterian church, attended by 500 business and professional men, it was agreed to have an election in Findlay under the Beal law immediately after the city becomes legally wet, which will be Dec. 3. More than $1,000 was raised for the preliminary campaign. Findlay has been without saloons for six years.

Secured Shells.

The clever priests of China often insert tiny images of Buddha within the shells of a living oyster, which are left undisturbed for about a year. At the expiration of that time the images are covered with mother of pearl to such an extent that they appear to have grown in this natural manner. The Chinese people hold these shells in great reverence, believing that Buddha dwells within them. However, should a Christian chance to look upon one of the shells it has no further value to them, as its charm is supposed to have left it.—Scientific American.

Washington, Nov. 9.—The secretary of agriculture issued the following statement regarding the quarantine for foot and mouth disease:

"The present outbreak of the foot and mouth disease, which is one of the most contagious and destructive diseases of cattle, swine and sheep, exceed in area affected any of the five previous outbreaks in this country. Unless the infection can be immediately localized and quickly eradicated, it threatens untold losses among live stock. So contagious is the disease that in past outbreaks, where but one animal in a herd was infected, the entire herd in almost all cases later contracted the sickness. While the mortality is not high, the effects of the disease even on animals that recover are such as to make them practically useless. In the case of cows the milk dries up and is made dangerous for human consumption."

The area included in the quarantine may be enlarged by the addition of the states of Rhode Island and Montana.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 9.—Three persons were killed and the fourth escaped in an automobile accident. Those killed were among the most prominent people in Milwaukee, and were: L. T. Boyd, former publisher; Charles S. Forsythe, president of the Forsythe Canning company, and Mrs. Alice Murray, who died later on an operating table. The accident occurred when Forsythe lost control of the machine.

WHAT "SHOCK" MEANS.

How It May Affect the Physical and Mental Systems.

In medical language "shock" means the depression of the vital forces, both mental and physical. The condition may result from many causes and may vary from a faintness and pallor that soon disappear to a state so desperate that the sufferer dies of it, as in the case of serious accident or difficult surgical operations.

Shock may also be the result of an overpowering emotion, like great terror. That kind of shock is often seen in the survivors of any terrible accident. Many who have not got so much as a scratch suffer for a long time from a state of impaired health. Sometimes their nervous systems are so badly shattered that they never entirely recover. That is one of the many reasons why foolish practical jokes are wrong. It is not funny to dress up like a ghost, to jump out on timid children from behind doors, to play "jokes" with dead mice or snakes. And such pranks are dangerous as well as stupid. Many an unfortunate child has been made the slave of fear all his life by reason of a shock that some playmate gave him in his youth. The remedies that the physician uses are those which will restore the blood to its normal flow and stimulate the vital functions. For shock associated with great loss of blood the best thing is to inject salt solution. For shock without hemorrhage, a stimulant of some kind is generally given.—Youth's Companion.

London's Moated House.

The bishop of London inhabits the only moated house in London. The grounds of Fulham palace, thirty-five acres in extent, are entirely surrounded by a moat constructed by the Danish army which encamped here in 879. According to a local historian, "the Danes as winter came on found the high tides encroaching seriously on their position, and not liking to leave the river and run the risk of being cut off from their ships they threw up a bank with a ditch along the river flank of their army and further fortified their position by carrying the ditch round the whole camp. The Danish army gone, it was not likely that any bishop would go to the expense of filling up the moat." The water is now regulated by sluice gates built during the episcopacy of Bishop King, who was appointed in 1611.—London Chronicle.

ANNIVERSARY OF SEVERE BLIZZARD

One year ago today the entire state was held in the grip of the worst November blizzard in the history of the state, and snow fell throughout the day, drifting until roads were blocked, trains delayed, and some parts of the country isolated from the remainder of the land.

In this county all remember the severity of the blizzard—how it came unexpectedly, catching people short of coal and provisions, and before the live stock could be sheltered.

The snow of Sunday gave evidence of being a repetition of last year's blizzard, but after two hours the flakes ceased to fall and the storm was over.

Saturday night a severe electrical storm passed over parts of the county.

The work, with the exception of the "finishing" was done by Secretary Patton and volunteer workers of the Junior department with tools and material contributed by Mr. Bell.

WOULD-BE THEIVES SMASH A WINDOW

An attempt was made to burglarize the Washington Candy Company's offices on South Fayette street Sunday night, a stone being hurled through the window and the window raised enough to permit the entrance of a man.

It is believed that the would-be thieves were frightened away before they succeeded in removing anything of value, as nothing was missed. The police are of the opinion that the attempt at robbery was made by boys who sought to help themselves to the sweets within.

THAT'S MY BUSINESS

In Social Circles

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ireland entertained with an enjoyable family dinner Sunday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Murray, who are returning to Washington, D. C. The table was laid for twelve covers.

Among the pleasurable affairs of the week was the gathering of the girls of Mrs. Ed Pine's Sunday school class at the home of their teacher for an evening of unalloyed social pleasure.

Mrs. Pine was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Walter Girard, assistant teacher, and Miss Lucy Edna Pine.

The class was organized into a Junior Queen Esther society.

Fifteen of the younger girls were delightfully entertained by Mrs. John McFadden at an informal Kensington Saturday afternoon. A pink and white color scheme was prettily carried out in the dainty collation.

Miss Doris McFadden assisted.

OHIO CORN BOYS TRIP DRAWS NEAR

During the first week in December seven special trains will carry the Ohio Corn boys and the girls who won prizes offered by the State Department of Agriculture, to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and New York city, where they will spend several days sight-seeing, meeting President Wilson and other notables.

Arrangements have been made to give the party the time of their lives.

HOSPITAL REOPENS AFTER MANY WEEKS

After several weeks during which extensive repairs and changes were made, the Fayette hospital is once more open for the reception of patients, several of whom are now in the hospital.

The improvements made include a new heating system which is a decided improvement over the old.

ALL BRICK LAID ROAD OPENS SOON

All brick have been laid and cemented on the Leesburg pike paving, and within the next few weeks the road will be thrown open to travel.

The paving occupies about one mile of road, beginning at the corporation line, and makes an ideal piece of road.

Some work on the sides of the roadway are necessary before the improvement is opened to traffic.

WEIMER WINS IN MADISON COUNTY

Charles Weimer, of Seladla, well known throughout northern Fayette county, is the next sheriff of Madison county.

Mr. Weimer was the only Democrat elected, and, like Probate Judge Allen of this county, made his canvass by riding a bicycle to all parts of the county.

Those who know Mr. Weimer also know that he will discharge the duties of his office without fear or favor.

I have 4 strayed horses at my livery barn which were taken up Saturday morning; 2 bay draft colts about 3 years old, 1 black draft colt 3 years old, 1 bay driving horse, weight about 800. Owners can have same by paying feed bill and advertisement. O. L. Blackmore.

MACMILLEN WILL BE IN COLUMBUS

In the variety of good things musically, which central Ohio has provided for itself, the music lovers of this community have noted with pleasure the announcement of the forthcoming appearance at Memorial hall, Columbus, Ohio, November 25th, of Francis Macmillen, the eminent violinist; Edmund Burke, the famous Irish baritone, and Marie Hertenstein, the brilliant pianist, in joint recital. This is in fact a bargain sale of musical worth, as the price of admission is to be not higher than that which any one of the three artists would charge for their individual services.

The combination is only possible by reason of an advantageous arrangement made by T. T. Frankenberg, whose brilliant series of concerts last season were patronized by music lovers from Delaware, Newark, Zanesville, Washington C. H., Mount Sterling, Marysville, Lancaster, Circleville and many other points fifty miles from the state capital.

Francis Macmillen, who has just escaped from the war zone of Europe, has plunged at once into a series of brilliant concerts arranged in advance for him. His violin playing is said to be more wonderful than ever before. Edmund Burke is recalled for the wonderful success he made last season in conjunction with Madame Melba and Jan Kubelik, violinist, with whom he shared all honors in their joint recital. Marie Hertenstein is a pianist who comes to America with the endorsement of Dr. Schnabel, the most brilliant and most authoritative teacher of piano in Berlin. On Dr. Schnabel's endorsement alone and without previous hearing, Miss Hertenstein secured bookings as soloist for the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra and other orchestras of equal prominence in this country.

WHEAT LOOKS GOOD IN THIS COUNTY

Fayette county wheat is going into the winter in good condition, as the weather has been so favorable that the crop has a good start, and virtually all of the fields are green and free from all pests.

A few fields of late sown wheat are not so promising, but nearly all of the wheat enters the winter in better condition than usual.

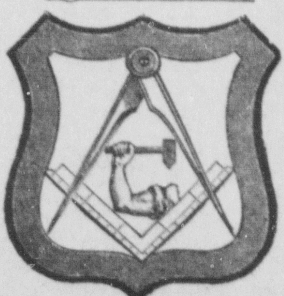

ACCIDENT VICTIM IS LAID TO REST

John Montieth, who was killed by falling from a loaded wagon and run over by the heavy wheels, was laid to rest in the New Holland cemetery Saturday afternoon, a large crowd of relatives and friends attending the funeral services.

Mr. Montieth was hauling household goods for Rev. Aldrich when the accident befell him.

FANGS OF A RATTLER.

Long, Curved and Hollow Are These Deadly Poison Syringes.

A rattlesnake does not coil up like a ship's cable, as it is so often pictured, but in a more irregular fashion, with the rattle bearing tail free in the middle and the neck bent back upon itself so as to be quickly thrust forward in striking. A snake when alarmed or irritated often opens its mouth and protrudes its tongue. Many think that the poison lurks here. As a matter of fact, the tongue is a delicate sense organ, corresponding to our ears, and a snake may be said to hear with its tongue.

The teeth of an ordinary harmless water snake are like little needles, and although such a snake may strike and bite viciously, the wound amounts to nothing. On the other hand, in a rattlesnake or other venomous serpent there is a pair of long curved hollow fangs in the fore part of the mouth that are very different from the other teeth. These connect with the poison ducts, and when the snake strikes and closes its jaws the apparatus works like a hypodermic syringe, the pressure of the closing jaws squeezing the venom from the poison sac through the hollow fang into the wound. Some snakes have only grooved fangs instead of hollow ones, but the effect is the same.

Treatment for the bite of a rattlesnake should be prompt and drastic. The time honored whisky treatment is useless. The poison works in the blood, and the first move should be to tie a ligature between the wound and the heart, so as to keep it out of the circulation. The next step should be to cut open the wound and by squeezing and sucking get rid of the venom as quickly as possible. The wound should be thoroughly washed out with a solution of permanganate of potash and kept moist with an antiseptic dressing. Travelers who are apt to be exposed to bites of poisonous serpents should carry a hypodermic syringe and as soon as bitten inject a permanganate solution liberally all about the wound. This requires nerve, but people without nerve should avoid the vicinity of rattlesnakes.—St. Louis Republic.

Father Fools the Bill.

Father (having just accepted cigar from son)—And what do you pay for these? Son—Two for a quarter. Father—What! And I content myself with two for a dime! Son—Well, you know, dad, our cases are different. If I had as large a family as you to support I shouldn't smoke at all.—Boston Transcript.

VAUDEVILLE AT Y. M. C. A. CARNIVAL

The vaudeville committee, working in connection with the Y. M. C. A. Carnival movement, seems to be essentially "on the job" as would be inferred from the partial list of "acts" secured for this big two-day festival of entertainment, November 17 and 18.

Prominent among the features listed appears a monologue stunt by Mr. W. B. Rogers and those who know of "Billy's" talent in this line anticipate a treat extraordinary. Another special attraction will be a Spanish folk dance by members of the Women's gym. class. A similar dance was given by these members at the exhibit of the class last fall and met with unanimous approval.

Richard Haynes, in rag time vocal rendition, will contribute several numbers to the program. "Dicky's" vocal accomplishment is well known in Washington and he will probably be one of the "hits" of the entertainment.

The Girls Glee club, of the High school, in an operetta entitled "A Colonial Tea", is heralded as one of the best numbers of the entertainment and arrangements are being made for participation by the Boys' melody corps of the High school.

Several other attractions are being sought and will be announced when arranged.

Hartman Theater

COLUMBUS, O., WEEK OF NOV. 15.

The most romantic figure in recent American history—Col. W. F. Cody—"Buffalo Bill"—has produced a motion picture which has been pronounced by a number of U. S. army officers to be the greatest bit of realism ever shown on the picture screen. It is called "Indian Wars Re-Fought by the United States Army" and is a faithful portrayal of the most famous incidents in the Indian wars since 1869. Because the Indian is fast disappearing from the face of the earth, because the famous scouts and plainmen, who have had so much to do in the modeling of our early history, are shown in their wonderful work, because these pictures truthfully and historically tell these stories as is possible in no other manner, because they were produced upon the authentic spots where these actions took place, and by many of the same Indians and soldiers who took part in the original actions, is a few reasons why every man, woman and child should see them. They tell the story of frontier life in such a way as to make a lasting impression and teach history as it cannot possibly be done in the school room. These pictures will be at the Hartman theater, Columbus, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, November 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 with daily matinees.

With a company of minstrel favorites embracing such players as Arthur Rigby, Sam Lee, John P. Rogers and many others, George Evans will be seen at the Hartman theatre, Columbus, Friday and Saturday, November 20 and 21st, with matinee Saturday. A new program of up-to-date minstrelsy in an all new scenic frame and with an all new wardrobe embellishment will be offered. Of course, the singing corps will offer new songs and the big orchestra of the company under the skillful baton of Eddie Cupero will be found full and satisfying. These yearly productions of high class minstrelsy which "Honey Boy" Evans has so masterfully managed to produce have been found really excellent in character and enjoyable to the lover of this time-honored amusement. The little minstrel star, himself, is always delightfully entertaining and the monologue moments with "Honey Boy" are a sure fire case of unrestrained laughter. This year he has a particularly happy line of talk about the great European war which he illustrates upon a huge war map.

Northern Ohio Potatoes For Storing

We have had a number of calls for Potatoes for winter use.

We have succeeded in securing a supply of Fancy Potatoes that will be suitable for storing.

Don't confuse these with Michigan Potatoes. They are so far superior there is no comparison.

In lots of 5 bushels 65c bushel.

In lots of 10 bushels or more 60c bushel.

It is hard to say what the Potato market will be when cold weather arrives. We are of the opinion, however, that you will not buy Potatoes any cheaper.
